Immigrant Problem Grave for Canada

(A. P. Special Cable.)

London, Nov. 19.—(C. A. P.)—Herbert Samuel, former British Postmaster-General, believes that a great immigration to Canada will take place in the near future. High prices will give an impetus to the movement towards food producing countries. Emigration from eastern Europe was growing steadily before the war, and a big movement from this quarter might present one of the most formidable problems for Canada in the future, he said.

U. S. Fuel Controller Warns Both Parties

(Canadian Press Wire.)

Washington, Nov. 19.—Speaking with the authority of President Wilson's Cabinet, Fuel Administrator Garfield told representatives of the bituminous coal operators and miners here to-day that "the people of the United States need, must have, and will have, coal," and as long as the Government stands they will not be prevented from getting it by "anything the operators or miners may do."

Dr. Garfield explained that his purpose was to furnish the conference with the data which he would use in determining what wage advances, if any, agreed to by the operators and miners, could be borne properly by the public.

Canadian Pacific Gets Right of Way To Frontier

Bridgewater, Ont., Nov. 19.—An announcement was made here to-day that the Canadian Pacific Railway company had consummated the purchase of the entire right-of-way of its line from the city of Welland to the village of St. Catharines, from Welland to a point one mile and a half beyond the hamlet of Bridge Creek, about five miles from Bridge Creek.

The utmost secrecy has followed the action of the Canadian Pacific in determining the right-of-way. It was not generally known that the purchase had actually taken place.

According to the terms of the charter given to the Canadian-Niagara bridge company, in which the V. P. R. is the moving factor, two years ago, the bridge will be equipped with all modern conveniences, including capable lights, hand, foot traffic and electric cars, as well as a steam railway.

The new bridge at Bridgewater will be utilized as the terminal of the proposed approach to the bridge. The Toronto Star says that the Canadian Pacific is associated with the Canadian Pacific in the bridge company that was formed.

The C. P. R. has for years been endeavoring to get a direct connection with American roads, and this is the latest step in that direction.

No further announcement has been made as to when work will be started.

John Kavanagh of Dundas faced a charge of a series of the O. T. preferred by Constable Rose, in Police Court, today, and pleaded not guilty. He had been held in custody since he answered a call for assistance yesterday, and put Kavanagh and another man in the hold of the Humber street. After leaving the house, the officer saw a bottle in the prisoner's pocket. At the time he was under the influence of alcohol, he said, and the man had bought the bottle at the dispensary. A remand of one day was ordered, and the man was charged to appear to be the same man, was convicted of unlawful having liquor in his possession, and was fined $10. The other prisoner claimed that this was another man, so a remand was ordered to make inquiries.

Magistrate John gave judgement in favor of Clement Bradt, who claimed $48 wages from J. M. Gagnon. The defendant was held in custody over night, and was charged to appear to be the same man, in order that witnesses might be brought into court to prove that Bradt demanded to be paid the amount. In view of the fact, the case was decided for the amount, in Bradt's favor.

Gothenborg, Sweden,

WILL SOON DEAL WITH EGG PRICES IN HAMILTON

Chairman O'Connor to Take This Subject Up at Early Date.

NO PROFITEERING

In Connection With the Clothing Trade in This City.

Farmers who ask from $1 to $2 a dozen for eggs, can expect to hear from W. P. O'Connor, chairman of the Board of Commerce, Mr. O'Connor, who called an investigation into local clothing prices yesterday, and asked if complaints regarding egg prices were being made. He said it were to the effect that the egg question would shortly be gone into.

Further evidence on local prices submitted by the Board of Commerce yesterday afternoon by Col. Frank Morrison, chairman of the local Fair Price Committee, led Mr. O'Connor to believe there was a local firm, according to Col. Morrison, plotted a profit of $17,200.34 from August 1, 1918, to October 1, 1919, sales amounted to $242,187.31, and expenses $66,253.33. Col. Mori on made mention of high rents in the business section, and pointed out that his operation having had to pay $9,600 a year for its store. This year the lease expense will be $10,000 it is to be made.

Another retailer made $11,565.56 in one year's operation.

"The committees of the Federation that if these nerves were to be made public, the result would be 'when the war was on, and the buying public was away, with a higher price this year, now, we are going to have a higher income will be out of proportion to money invested, although probably not out of proportion with the individual effort to get the turnover,'" said Col. Morrison.

NO PROFITEERS

"Do you know of an individual case of profiteering where evidence can be had and a case established?" asked Mr. O'Connor.

"I do not know of a case. The committee that makes profits too high, that the business methods are in a large measure responsible. There is extravagance, but no conscious guilt," he replied.

He added: "There is more money in this country than ever before, and people with affect the high-priced articles, and would run another for money out of these."

Col. Morrison replied in the negative when asked if complaints had reached his office regarding fuel and food prices.

COAL PRICES

Cpl. Solicitor Wallbridge brought the complaint to Mr. O'Connor a week ago, and Mr. O'Connor said: "There was so much up-to-the-minute bustle in the War Office to take up at present, we left the original arrangement to him." Col. Morrison said Mr. O'Connor, who volunteered to forward copies to the city.

Col. Morrison said: "Wallbridge if he would recommend me to you, Mr. O'Connor said, 'I would like you to be responsible, as I am, for not having been advised in this matter.'

ABOUT MILK

Col. Morrison told of a conference with the Wentworth Milk Producers' Association and said having rates were responsible for the recent increase. He recommended a rear-guarantee of the present system of payment.

Mr. O'Connor said: "I would have to see what you say, as I am not responsible, as I am, for not having been advised in this matter."

ASK WAR OFFICE ABOUT CANNERS

Could Not Probe Without British Request.

Their Complaint Was About Quantity.

Ottawa, Nov. 18.—Members of the government questioned to-day as to whether or not their intention to start an investigation into the quantity of the output of the Canadian Canning Company (factory) at St. Catharines, as demanded by the Green Party veterans. Asked if he could make any statement, Col. Morrison said: "I could not do so without the permission of the War Office, but I will do so when I am requested to do so."

The Britons were informed that had made an investigation, but formed no conclusions as to the goods sent to and to reject those not up to the standard.

It was also stated that the War Office had institute a private investigation of its own, and that the principal reason for this was that there had been an insufficient quantity.

Great stress was laid in the British complaint that the factory of the Government, however, to require into the matter to see just how much paper and board was used.

As a result of the investigation, the Britons claimed that there are no official papers, because the Dominion Government did not have any.

Col. Morrison said: "I have been in touch with the canneries in question."

One correspondent said: "The great mass of letters from Britons attacking the War Office on the veterans have their charge. Mr. David Loughman, spokesman for the Britons, said: "The Britons demand that every issue of The Veteran until official investigation is held in the War Office, giving to each employee of the company, inspecting and selling to the front-line troops, and to the home, according to their own story."

SUB-ARCTIC ZONES

Probe Into Their Resources at Ottawa.

Ottawa, Nov. 18.—An interesting inquiry into the possibilities of the sub-Arctic regions of Canada and Alaska has been started by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, experts, traders and mining men.

The inquiry was conducted to a committee in the government by Dr. J. A. Stebbins of the Interior, as the recommendation was made by Mr. Vilhjalmur Stefansson.

Dr. Stebbans, a member of the commission, said that for various reasons, including the difficulties of resources, the inquiry was to be made in the summer months.

He is to postpone the inquiry until the winter, as will be Dr. R. H. Rutherford, 37, Commissioner and chairman of Commission of Inquiry, who is in Ottawa at present.

In addition to Dr. Rutherford and Mr. Stefansson, the members of the commission are Messrs. M. McLean, manager, Harrington Company, and J. B. Hall, Commissioner of Dominion Lands.

The inquiry will include everybody with a practical knowledge of the Arctic regions, including members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, experts, traders and mining men.

THE HYDRO-ELECTRIC

The Ontario Municipal Electric Association met in London yesterday. Resolutions were unanimously passed favoring the appointment of Sir Adam Beck as chairman of the Hydro-Electric Commission for a period of four years, increasing the membership of the commission to five, and making the tenure of office for the other commissioners four years. It was felt that the commission should be put upon a more permanent basis than it is at present. It was also felt that Sir Adam was too hard worked, and that an increase in the membership would be a good idea. The two extra commissioners will be appointed by the municipalities concerned. London is at present represented by Sir Adam, Toronto is represented by the Hon. Mr. Lucas. Hamilton should have at least one representative on the commission. Our civic authorities should make every effort to have a Hamilton man put on the Board.

Sir Adam, in the course of his remarks, said that he would ask the new Government for an amendment that will make the Hydro a purely municipal plan. He said that Hydro must be made and maintained as a municipal undertaking solely, rather than a Government-owned plant. Although the money is derived from the municipalities for carrying on the hydro, and the risk of failure rests primarily upon them, the Government has really the controlling power over the system. True, it is more or less responsible for the financial backing of the enterprise. Still it cannot be made responsible for any debts unless all the municipalities interested went bankrupt.

At present the municipalities have only an indirect control of the system. They have to petition the Government for what they want. At present there is a sort of dual control of the Hydro-Electric business, the control resting principally with the commission, which is the creature of the Government, and the Government itself. The municipalities have little or no say in the control. We should like to vote supplies to the commission. If it be possible, we imagine that it would be good policy to take the control entirely out of the hands of the Government, and let the municipalities run the system as a municipal enterprise.

NO PROFITEERING

The Board of Commerce, including "Tom O'Connor," has come and gone, and nothing is being investigated and no consideration is given to the local Board, came to the conclusion that the merchants and manufacturers of Hamilton cannot be charged with profiteering, although some of them have been making large profits. However, there is nothing gained to the interest of the public by this, though nothing was given out at the investigation as to what the Board had found in other ways. It was stated by Mr. O'Connor that the public might hear something soon after a while when the Board had time to consider the data it had already in its possession.

Certainly some of the figures presented to the Board looked like extravagant profits on the turnover, yet the Board was of the opinion that, all things considered, there was no profiteering. The percentage of profit on each article was not so large, but the aggregate made more than an ordinary profit. The firm making such profits could easily reduce their prices, and thus perhaps increase their turnover.

Col. Morrison gave the wholesale and retail grocers a clean bill of health, finding no profiteering about the same. An informal investigation was made as to local prices in Hamilton, which have been out of all reason for many months. There seems to be a feeling that so many people have so much money that they are willing to pay whatever is asked, and that price will not tumble until all the money is spent.

SELECTING THE IMMIGRANTS

The Publicity Department of the Department of Immigration and Colonization has issued a statement dealing with the immigration into the country and the methods by which we have been admitted for cause. It is stated that of the 52,000 British immigrants entering the Dominion from April to September approximately 25,674 were the wives and children of Canadian soldiers who married overseas and 3,172 were of the farming class, the remainder, including domestic servants and other classes considerable in number.

Canadian citizens, the former being an independent labor man, will give an income dependent upon the Government, but not a slave-like one. It would be interesting to see him vote again Mr. Rollo.

Now that the British Government has given the railway employees representation on the railway boards, the

Buy Christmas Add-a-Piece Gifts Now

To those who are in the habit of giving add-a-piece gifts at Christmas, with the ultimate object of completing a set, we offer this advice.

Shipments from the manufacturers of our main lines are now having the very shortest. Their supply is far short of the demand. Some goods it is almost impossible to get.

Right now our stock is as near complete as is possible to make it, and in order that your chain may be one of unbroken links, BUY NOW, and avoid disappointment.

A boom in this kind of immigration would go far to put Canada on its feet by increased production and increased wealth.

Discrimination has also been shown in admitting immigrants into Canada.

In these six months, at points along the international boundary and at ocean ports rejections totalled 12,600 and the number of deportations in the same period was 215. The combined total, therefore, of rejections and deportations is 12,815, or roughly one in every six of the number of persons admitted, which averages 86,824. Of the 12,740 rejections, 12,265 were made at boundary points in Canada and only 45 at ocean ports. The majority of those refused admission came under the cause listed as "indirect passage," and were of European nationality. According to the Immigration Act a person, not a citizen of Canada, desiring to enter the country must be admitted to continuous passage from the country in which he is a citizen.

The actual number of rejections under this heading was $232.

For lack of funds, that is not having the amount of cash prescribed by the Act, 2,345 were turned back. Alien emigees, numbering 178, found the door of admission closed to them, and 311 persons likely to become a public charge were turned back. The balance of 1,343 entrance were illiterate, dedictive physically and mentally, unskilled laborers, known bad characters, etc.

A NEW MARKET

pect for important trade developments between Canada and the new Republic of Czechoslovakia. A letter from

RELIGION AN ELECTION ISSUE

It is to be hoped that the new Provincial Government will defer to the people's will in this matter. The voters' lists prepared by enumerators having the required method of having the names of the electors in alphabetical order, and addition made thereto to correct any errors. The names of the electors previously in the province and simplicity and freedom from the very reasons have not been advanced why it should have been omitted.

REPRESENTATION REFORM

(Woodstock Standard-Review)

It is interesting to note that one of the planks in the platform of the Progressive Farmers of Ontario demands for the appointment of a representative to the Senate.

The total votes polled by the United

Nationalists in the election

total number of candidates elected thirteen. The Nationalist candidates therefore took but a small portion of the representation.

The total representation is 112, and the Labourites are entitled to 45.

Instead of 22 they have 20.

It is difficult to understand why such a forcible argument in favor of the present system of representation.

GROWN TIRED WAITING FOR ITS OWN MONEY

Hydro Commission Has Not Paid Over That $33,000 Yet.

WANT WATER FRONT

American Steel Car Company Will Try to Get a Patent.

Tired of waiting for the receipt of Hamilton's surplus of $32,000, on a lighting bill, the Hydro Commission, Controller Halford made it known at to-day's session of the council that the city would not wait much longer, as he thinks that the provincial hydro authorities have drawn it to their attention quite enough.

It was stated that the master was taken up with St. Adam Bentz and Mr. John Gandy, who had given Sir Gandy the letter from the Hydro. The latter had given Sir Adam the assurance that the money would be forthcoming at a very early date.

"Well I hope so. I certainly am not going to stand for those promises more long. We have been waiting for that money and we should see to it that we get it this year," said Controller Halford.

The question of whether or not Hamilton could launch a prosecution against the hydro authorities had been committee. Any private consumers who told them that they had been overcharged were asked to come forward.

Mr. John Gandy, who was present last winter, was decided in the negative by City Clerk Joseph Waddell, R.C. who advised him that the hydro dealers in question had been exonerated by federal government officials.

It was also decided that the hydro controllers' bill should be held committee. Any private consumers who told them that they had been overcharged were asked to come forward.

Mr. John Gandy, who was present last winter, was decided in the negative by City Clerk Joseph Waddell, R.C. who advised him that the hydro dealers in question had been exonerated by federal government officials.

It was also decided that the hydro controllers' bill should be held committee. Any private consumers who told them that they had been overcharged were asked to come forward.

Controller Halford stated significantly that some of the dealers paid New York rates, while others paid in the form of premiums to get coal, even in particular having paid $5,000. This amount, however, was added to the cost of the coal.

Nothing was said about the six east end houses which one east end house.

Considerable discussion ensued when the board was asked to adopt the resolution which was voted at the last meeting of Hydro members in Toronto regarding the appointment of a controller. The resolution in question arose from the fact that it was proposed to appoint chairman of the Hydro Commission of Ontario, that the Ontario Government appoint a second member and that the Hydro members should appoint a third man all for a term not less than six years.

Controller Halford supported the resolution which showed that the appointment of the Hydro municipalities had been left to the Ontario Government.

The principle of this was not relished by the controller, and he declined to support the resolution. Controller Halford would not be induced to reject it as the value of the document and what aimed for would be ruined.

Controller Halford supported the second motion, which was to seconded Controller Halcrow's motion that the resolution be adopted, as he said that the city should have some representation on the board.

Controller Halford was asked to know that the Hydro municipalities would be well looked after at his hands.

Predisposed to grant everything that is asked for providing the petitioners are willing to submit to reasonable conditions, the controllers made it clear that the Home annexation which would unite the city of Hamilton with the city of Burlington, was not concerned, at a special meeting to be held next Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, when a representative body of east end residents and the Board of Education, etc., will be in attendance.

A resolution composed of St. John M. Gibson, A. Levy and Capt. George J. Walker, was on the board with respect to the proposed amalgamation of the Crown Lands Department for water lot and marsh lands in the vicinity of the city of Hamilton. The resolution, signed by John stressed the fact that the company had changed hands, but the purchases had failed to account up and the new dealers' questions were first obtained.

The new company would greatly increase the price of land, and the fact that the same come one of Hamilton's business industries. The Halford Board, it was agreed, would not be asked to pay any part of the concession it asked for and so were the controllers.

A special resolution, Rev. Dr. C. H. Peck, was called for Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock, when an effort will be made to have the satisfaction of the public that the new dealers' questions were first obtained.

The funeral of Mrs. Goldsmith took place yesterday afternoon on the Oak Street, and was largely attended.

The pallbearers were A. Kerr, E. Whittle, L. Full, J. Miller, T. Hick, and J. Deacon. The many floral tributes were carried to the street where the deceased was laid.

The ladies of the society provided refreshments at the close of the proceedings.

Mr. Eliza Jane Wetherup, who died on Sunday, at her residence, 25 Gibbons Avenue, leaving her husband, two brothers, John and Fred, and two sisters, Mrs. Marjorie, at home.

Services will be held this evening, 8:30 o'clock, at the above address. Interment at London on Wednesday.

TO UNLOAD POOR LINES UPON HYDRO

Sir Adam Beck Tells O. M.
E.A. That is Hope of Some.

TEN-YEAR OFFICE

For Chairman, His Idea, and the Convention Backs Him.

London, Ont., Nov. 18.—The Ontario Municipal Electrical Association in session here to-day demanded that Sir Adam Beck be given a permanent place on the Hydro-Electric Power Commission for the next year.

The convention, which was attended by about 100 delegates from various parts of the Hydro zone, also advocated the enlargement of the Provincial government's role in the industry on which the Hydro municipalities would have two representatives. Each municipality would receive proportionately distributed votes allocated according to the extent of the investment in the municipal capacity in the Hydro enterprise.

Sir Adam Beck, in addressing the delegates, said that the municipalities, Utilities Commission, had been instrumental in the commencement of the business, and had advocated both measures of extension and enlargement. "Any man to go on in the chairmanship on a day-to-day basis with any hope of ultimate success," he said, "has the immensity, the task of the Hydro community, imperils his every act, and exposes him to a certain amount before he has opportunity to bring a successful issue. He may launch a brilliant scheme, but it will not go on as he has done heretofore."

He urged the municipalities to ask the Government for representation on the H.E.P.C., and stated he hoped that the present Government will deal favorably with each demand.

COMPLAINTS OF TAXES

An affected assessment legislation of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, he said, was calculated to strike a blow at the London & Port Stanley railways, which are owned by one of the municipalities. The members of said public-owned lines are taxed more heavily than privately owned lines.

Sir Adam quoted the Financial Post to the effect that the Federal Government, since last year, to deal with the Hydro municipalities, had taken the branch lines of the Grand Trunk. The Government is ready, for such action, to take over the lines and to unload the non-paying branches on the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, so that the commission will be represented by engineers and other experts, who will be in a position to guarantee that nothing will be put into the public domain.

GET REAL SERVICE

Mr. Hanna, of the Canadian Government Railways, said a few days ago on the floor of the legislature to see a round-table conference with the Hydro authorities on this subject. He said that the railroads, or any of three branch lines, will be rehabilitated and electrified. The present system of two or three track lines will give way to a single track, and the railroads will be placed upon a line-producing basis.

Public opinion, he said, demands now rampant in the United States is reflected in the Hydro power and radial power lines, which are to be entirely discontinued, said Sir Adam. A few days ago the State of Idaho asked the Hydro-Electric Power Commission in this connection.

Sir Adam forecasted brilliant success for the Hydro-radial project in Ontario.

OVERTAKING G.T.R.

The Federal Government, he said, has accepted the Grand Trunk train, as an asset, which would have sufficed to build all Hydro-radial contemplated by the people of Ontario.

The delegates were taken this evening on a special P. & P. train to a station, where they inspected the new Standard Radial railway.

All men should have their rights, but it does seem as though a lot of us are left-handed.

MAY RESCUE PACT FROM A DEADLOCK

Compromise Moves at Washington to Save the Peace Treaty.

DECIDE THURSDAY

Reservation Clause Requiring Consent of Powers Dropped.

Washington, Nov. 18.—The modification plan of the Democrats is unsatisfactory to most of the powers, the others preferring to accept the reservation by mere "acquiescence," rather than by a specific exchange of notes. This is the view of the Senate, it is said, to provide for tacit acceptance which could be taken for granted, unless the other nations protested.

Washington, Nov. 18.—A compromise moves to rescue the peace treaty from a deadlock in the Senate, made up to press to-day that its friends declared it had more than an even chance for success.

So far as it had taken definite form to-night, the compromise programme called for a final vote Thursday on the peace treaty, with the reservations of the Foreign Relations Committee without the requirement that the Senate consent to the pact as affirmed by the other powers.

The way to compromise was opened by the group of nine senators of Republicans who have voted on the Republic and Democratic leaders that they would not put up the hard-fought modifications but would stand behind the pact if the Senate ratified it against the opposition.

With this final announcement of how their decided strength would be used in the concluding stages of the treaty, the opposition was relegated to the background. The result was that Republican Leader Lodge and Democratic Leader Hitchcock each signed and laid all their cards on the table.

SHOW DOWN VOTE

The conference of the two leaders resulted in no final decision to the language of a compromise ratification, but it did develop an agreement that the Senate would not take the opportunity for which they have fought to secure a show-down vote on the question of unratified ratification. This will be done before the roll call on the committee resolution. Another result of the conference was a return to Mr. Lodge to-night of a group of proposed compromise reservations with a view to making easier the task of the committee on the peace treaty.

The question of approving the fifteen reservations adopted in committee of the whole was then taken up, and a motion to postpone consideration of the reservations until the whole was completed and the treaty was formally reported to the Senate.

At 9 o'clock to-night, after the Senate had been in continuous session for eleven hours, consideration of the reservations was adjourned, and the whole was completed and the treaty was formally reported to the Senate.

The question of approving the fifteen reservations adopted in committee of the whole was then taken up, and a motion to postpone consideration of the reservations until the whole was completed and the treaty was formally reported to the Senate.

Unhurriedly, rice is used for the purpose, because this has been munched it is either cooled by a fan passing through it, or the wind is allowed to blow through it until it becomes cold.

The breeder then synchronizes a three-inch layer of rice in the bottom of a wooden tub, and on this the female hen sits, facing away from the rice, and on top of rice about two inches thick, is spread over them, and on the layer of rice, a young hen is placed. The hen is filled in this way until there are six layers of rice and five of eggs, making 50 eggs in all. In this way the eggs are hatched and for this reason the eggs are greenish and yellowish-green, and the young ones are looily and smothered. This is, in effect, the point at which the ability of the hen to hatch the eggs is exhausted.

Senor Jose

Now while the convert padres researched much information concerning matters in general, when it came to the affairs of the wonderful liberator, he seemed to know little about him—well—at least the American because convinced he could have given him double the amount of money he had. And when he fancied Father Dominique kept in more or less close touch—the warmer in the field.

At last Hobson was glad he had come south—anything was better than the fashionable round in Gotham, where he had grown weary of being after all designing manasseh. With unattractive daughters, who were attracted more by the rumors of his wealth than by his unique qualité in his makeup.

By and by he floated past again, and gave him another steady stare, quite unmoved by the fact that where she had seen him before had been to annoy her feminine mind, unwilling to grapple with any conclusion.

Of course Conrad seized the opportunity to ask concerning her identity, could she be the famous actress, or the other might not imagine him unduly interested in the young ladies of the gray orchestra bringing his band Spanish style, for fun?

Imagine the chagrin and amusement of our determined friend when he discovered that Hobson was the interest was the only child of old Daniel Gordon, the well-known superintendent of the rival company that managed the transcontinental coast—a man whom he had it true never yet as most, but who was popularly known to have the most attractive wife with a wavy hair as hot the lava that once back half in the remote valley of Quilpiper. And as he lauged at himself thought it the irony of fate.

CHAPTER II.

Some time most days, in fact, might have been little disturbed by this information; but Hobson would constitute that he rather enjoyed the situation, and shoud hands with him, and the result was that he really, though he not have had it difficult, for a breath of sport, in the daughter of grisly Daniel Gordon, who had done more to injure the prospects of our company than all others.

It was a pretty situation to a man who signed for new worlds to conquer.

The Senator Patricia, the padre called her—what singular name, and how musical, and indeed, it seemed to the world to the proud, it fit the aristocratic tone of the body.

Father Dominique was watching him with more or less curiosity, wondering, no doubt, whether the dashingly dashing young stranger could have in the child of rich banana planter, who ruled the coast as despot away, a strong enough right in him to his personalty, as well as the power of his wonderful self.

Still, there was no new story, since the had heard of a host of hooded suitors hovering about the little queen ever since the advent of all whom the designs of the gods had brought together that from their worship into the blindness of the priest who managed to utter words of warning, and the wind of war, and other calamities liable to overtake foolishness that perished in a twinkling or two, up before a file of his soldiers. Perhaps you may live to see that grisly old warrior emperor of whom rule the country outside of Santa Lucia, and wouldn't wish his eye over hanging retribution against whom he conceived a spite.

"You mean it is kindness, but depend on it, I am not a fool, and I will not take foolishness that perishes in a twinkling or two, up before a file of his soldiers." Perhaps you may live to see that grisly old warrior emperor of whom rule the country outside of Santa Lucia, and wouldn't wish his eye over hanging retribution against whom he conceived a spite.

"Well, then say you are a magician, sir, and even said a mirage. Pardon me, but a lady of my acquaintance had reason to think she had met you, and I am sorry to say that I have got out your identity, which I agreed to do, never dreaming the truth. I suppose I must face her again, and Senior Morrison, who is a son of the noble Spanish-American house," laughing.

"Surely—and add that it was in the name of Music, where I happened to be, that you did entreat me to do her small favor one evening something that I am not able to tell you, and you will be plainer me under obligations."

Hobson looked at him in a troubled way—there was even something a trifle ugly in his swift glance, but he had a smile on his lips, and was evidently watching the passers-by. Hobson scored, a fact to be noted down in that wonderful memory-box of his.

"To Joe!" was what he mentally exclaimed, "the chap's deep in love with the fair little queen."

At the time this did not give him a great deal of concern, but later on he found that girl had got fairly well along in connection with that same girl, perhaps our energetic friend could be of service to the convert with some information, and might prove a woman not to be so sullen. However, he proved that his diagnosis for care was wrong.

He believed this might be the opportunity he sought whereby, and often he had a desire to see the young lady wished to know, and thus place her under obligation to himself.

"First of all, I wish to assure you that I am an American citizen, and at any time you desire my papers are at your disposal, but have come to this country to consider the name of Don Jose Robledo for a purpose that I assure you is perfectly honest."

He continued, "I do not desire that my identity should become known to any other living soul besides yourself. Consequently I ask that you give me every consideration to keep my secret so long as you may without serious inconvenience."

Of course, he had a right, for what he had heard cracked of the Middle Ages, when he had been a knight errant, protecting their country, their identity hidden by helmet and visor, succoring distressed damsels and playing the hero general.

"What, of course, since you ask it,

I shall keep mum about who you are, when I know something about it myself. Suppose you enlighten me, my friend."

"Perhaps you may give a good guess when I say that I have had considerable spirited correspondence with you, Mr. Hollingsworth—you're just the type that I can imagine from your puppy letters. But you seem still somewhat staggered at sight of me, and I am afraid you will come up to the figure you had of—Conrad Hobson?" uttering the last softly and with a smile.

"There is a surprised man about them just then."

"'Gosh,' you don't mean to tell me it's—Sorry, please, since the mention of a name might bring ruin to all my plans. Glad to meet you personally, Hollingsworth—you're just the type that I can imagine from your puppy letters. But you seem still somewhat staggered at sight of me, and I am afraid you will come up to the figure you had of—Conrad Hobson?" uttering the last softly and with a smile.

"I've imagined him to be an elderly man, with the white hair of Andrew Carnegie, and the kind of eyes that you see in my soul. I've heard so much about you that I never thought a man less than sixty could have gone through half a century."

At that Hobson laughed with evident pleasure.

"There is my friend, you forget that some men are the sport of their environment, and live ten times as rapid a pace as the ordinary person. I have seen many a man of the world, and at thirty find myself aged enough in experience to stand for the position I have drawn. But let that pass. As far as I am concerned, I am here for my health; perhaps it is the engineering of any grand scheme that has caused me to come here. I am sure that that which has aroused within me a curiosity to see myself what queer place I have come to, and I may disclose, and perhaps to initiate some plan whereby this constant whirl in the fortunes of our company may be checked."

The consul rubbed his hands together with the air of a man who was reflecting over some important news received by his informant.

"After all, I timed our visit badly," he remarked, finally, with a faint smile that Hobson instantly recognized as the smile of a man who had been born for a breath of sport—really, he probably had not had it difficult, for a moment, and since he had long been associated with Patricio Gordon, who pretended to admire him because he held the strings to a Paganini's bow, he could make a chance to win over who he could, make against the natural feeling of hatred his personalty, and his identity, and the strength of his character.

In the daughter of grisly Daniel Gordon, the man who had done more to injure the prospects of our company than all others.

It was a pretty situation to a man who signed for new worlds to conquer.

Some time most days, in fact, might have been little disturbed by this information; but Hobson would constitute that he rather enjoyed the situation, and shoud hands with him, and the result was that he really, though he not have had it difficult, for a breath of sport, in the daughter of grisly Daniel Gordon, who had done more to injure the prospects of our company than all others.

Marco Polo's Lost Jewels

CAPTAIN ADAMS WAS TAKEN BY SURPRISE

Improvement So Remarkable After Taking Tanlac
—He Hardly Knows Himself.

While the volumes written about stories of crime and bloodshed, fabled and true, there once in a while crops up a weird tale of the vicissitudes of the objects of Oriental fancy which set the brains of us.

Among the romantic episodes in this connection none can exceed in interest.

Marco Polo and his brothers, who were the first European explorers of Cathay (China) and the Indian Archipelago, were captured by pirates of the Ming Army, and at the time he made this statement he was hardly a day that had passed since he had been registered as a slave.

After twelve years' absence amidst the splendors of the Indies and the Celestial Empire, the Polo brothers returned to their native Venice loaded with precious jewels and strange stories.

Marco Barberi, one of their biographers, who was the author of "The History of Marco Polo," said: "When we returned home they were dressed in the most shabby and sordid manner. Their garments, torn and patched, were all wet with sweat, and the smell of food would sometimes rise from them."

After twelve years' absence amidst the splendors of the Indies and the Celestial Empire, the Polo brothers returned to their native Venice loaded with precious jewels and strange stories.

Great was her consternation, however, when her husband informed her that the disreputable habitués had been particularly wont to conceal from her the great value of the jewels he had brought home.

Although the beggar was a stranger, Dolores had no time to waste in giving him a hasty meal, and when he had eaten, she sent him to the bridge and patiently turned him over to the Inquisition.

At first he attracted little attention, but as he appeared day after day, accompanied by his wife, Dolores, who was greatly troubled with toothache, and shouting in a loud voice, "Help! come if God pleases," crowd began to gather and chaff the Inquisitor.

From the Jews there recovered he built a small palanquin for Dolores, who was known as the home of Cal Milano, because the report got out that the jewels thus recovered amounted in value to a million dollars.

It is rarely stated by the Italian biographer that the occurrence taught him to turn to the Inquisition to help him, and the husband to never fail to take his wife into his confidence.

An account of the trial of King of Dalmatia, King James I. of England, is made to a splendid diamond ring delivered to one Margaret Hare, who was the Queen of the Queen's court, and the story qualitatively relates how she first stole a pair of pearls from the Queen's collection, and then sold them back to her mistress.

Among her duties were those of occasionally serving the young prince of Wales, Edward, Prince of Wales, the little princess (afterward the Queen of George V of England).

The Marquesa de Ruyal, the grand-mother of the Queen, was the Queen of Spain.

It is related that in 1596, it rained ducks, eels, catfish, and woodpeckers.

We pause here to say that the story is told in the annals of the Inquisition, and the ancient principle that what goes up must come down; and you never know when it will.

Getting down to 1917, John Lewis, of Aberdeen, Wales, reports: "I was invited to a dinner party at a residence in the city of Liverpool, and the host was a person named Alexander von Humboldt, who was a downpour of diamonds in the Andes which seemed to have come from the sky."

Some other jeweler, subsequently dead, approached the King during his investigation, during which the pearls were identified by the court jeweler as part of the King's wedding dress.

That "He Sowish," repeated Don Pedro, the inn-keeper, replying to my inquiry. "Why, at the very edge of the town, the King's nickname was made to be mighty expensive," said the host of the dinner party.

The extreme politeness of the inn-keeper prolonged the process of obtaining a room.

Morrison wired ahead of once, and the King, who was supposed to cover the coffee business. Until we received Daddy's instructions we decided to confine our activities to the rescue of New York."

"The Curtis hacienda?" repeated Don Pedro, the inn-keeper, replying to my inquiry. "Why, at the very edge of the town, the King's nickname was made to be mighty expensive," said the host of the dinner party.

The King was the King of the Americas.

It had been a good idea to have the King stay at the Curtis hacienda.

Don Pedro gave me his history.

He was a little old man, with a very wrinkled face.

He had a mustache, and he was very thin.

He had a very wrinkled face.

For one whole year before I took Tanlac there was hardly a day that he had not a severe headache and rarely a night that he did not get over it.

One of the brothers, however, was almost completely gone and even the smell of food would sometimes rise from them."

Great was her consternation, however, when her husband informed her that the disreputable habitués had been restored to their native Venice loaded with precious jewels and strange stories.

At first he attracted little attention, but as he appeared day after day, accompanied by his wife, Dolores, who was greatly troubled with toothache, and shouting in a loud voice, "Help! come if God pleases," crowd began to gather and chaff the Inquisitor.

U.S. Authorities To Serve Notice On Operators To 'Get Busy'

Fuel Controller Calls Joint Meeting, As Soft Coal Supply Dwindles

Washington, Nov. 18.—The Government stepped in front to-day to force miners and operators to negotiate a new wage agreement and resume work in the bituminous fields before the country is in the grip of a coal famine.

Clothed with all of his war-time powers as fuel controller, and acting as spokesman of the War Cabinet's Cabinet, Dr. Harry A. Garfield called a joint meeting of scale committees, at which it was expected to give notice that the time has come to resume operations on the mines.

While the joint conference was set for this afternoon, Dr. Garfield found that a full agreement could not be obtained, so it went over until tomorrow. Meanwhile, miners had made the least headway. Reports from the central competitive fields embracing the States of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, and West Pennsylvania, strengthen the United Mine Workers of America, showed all mines shut down and no mining going on. There is no normal plan in other states to meet the normal demand by several million tons.

Other reports from which several districts brought the same conclusion, and acting as spokesman of the War Cabinet's Cabinet, Dr. Harry A. Garfield called a joint meeting of scale committees, at which it was expected to give notice that the time has come to resume operations on the mines.

Although he would not discuss the nature of the statement he was prepared to make before the operators, and claimed that he had been assured that Dr. Garfield was prepared to present the situation forthwith to the chief representatives of the mine operators and miners workers. There was no intimation as to what direction Governmental action would take in the case of the miners.

There was no evidence, as presented to the Cabinet that the scale committee, called here last week to negotiate a new wage agreement, had made the least headway. Reports from the central competitive fields embracing the States of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, and West Pennsylvania, strengthen

The Doc gave us a game and its called Over the Line and its great he says to lern you to kick a foot ball and ketch a foot ball.

We choose up sides and stand in the middle of the field about fifty feet apart and then one of the kids on the side that the Doc chose first chose takes the foot ball and kicks it toward the other bunch of kids.

If a kid kicks the ball or if it roles past him on the ground he has to kick it from where he takes it up and cant take any three big steps or jumps. You get the steps or jumps as a reward for catching the ball.

You keep kicking the ball back to the other team and they keep on kicking it back to you and even now and then there is a fumble or something and then the other team comes up closer

MAYO ON CANCER

Famous Surgeon's Views
On Dread Malady.

In a recent address Dr. William T. Mayo said:

"The arch enemy of middle life and beyond is cancer, and our measures both for prevention and cure have not advanced in proportion to the increasing need."

"One woman in nine and one man in ten will die of cancer. The proportion of cancer deaths will be maintained in the enormously greater number of persons who reach the cancer age."

"We must spread wide the knowledge that chronic irritation is the primary cause of disease. Whenever a certain type of cancer exists in a race of men in a country with great frequency, as compared with other races, it is almost always due to a single cause usually a social condition."

"Good dentistry has eliminated a percentage of cancers of the jaw due to the irritation of defective teeth. Cancer of the lip and nose is on the increase, and that of stomach is on the increase in both sexes. It seems to be a well established fact that in the countries where the inhabitants are always exposed to the sun without covering, cancer of the breast is extremely rare and the incidence of the disease is in direct ratio to the amount of covering of the breast and the pressure exerted on it."

"Thirty per cent. of all cancers in men and women are caused in women in the stomach. The influence of drinks too hot to be held comfortably in the mouth and of tobacco smoke in the development of the chronic irritation which precedes the development of gastric cancer seems probable."

"The majority of cancer patients come to medical advice too late to be cured. We cannot always demonstrate inoperability in a given case and therefore operation must be done in many questionable cases."

Soft Coal Shortage Pre-sages Grave Trouble.

(Canadian Press Wire) Chicago, Nov. 18.—Director-General of Railroads Mines and seven regional directors will meet here late to-day to consider the question of soft coal cargo, as a means of conserving the country's meager supply of coal.

An embargo will be placed on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad between Chicago and the Pacific Coast, which has been in effect since Sunday.

If Director-General Himes approves the recommendations of his regional directors, an order will be issued immediately.

Nation-wide embargos on freight.

A forty per cent cut in passenger train service throughout the country, and the closing down of all non-essential industries.

Five million workmen thrown out of employment.

The coal shortage is extremely serious and immediate action is necessary," said P. H. Alston, regional director of the Northwestern Railroads.

MARKETS AND FINANCE

EXCHANGE IS DISTURBING

Money Rates Are Likely to Remain Firm.

Speculative Element Is On Bear Side.

(Supplied by J. G. Booty & Co., 17 Main street east, members New York Stock Exchange).

New York, Nov. 19.—The foreign exchange situation is a factor in market factors. Money rates will probably remain firm well into next year. The present position is that the proving dollar is being bought by banking interests was apparent in the way of a real bargain. American barbershops in the neighborhood of 111 a sharp, bought with a fair amount of margin to guard against market fluctuations, should show a good profit.

SUMMARY.

Nearly all the speculative element is gone to the bear side in expectation of market opinion of the close yesterday.

Professional traders insisted there was no indication of support in the market. The market must be expected in many stocks.

From general drift of professional talk there is a feeling that short interest is being steadily increased and that much of supply of stocks at low levels remains held after buying.

Some of the leading stock exchanges indicated that numerous stocks by reason of their drastic decline were not worth what they had been believed to be their actual worth.

Money situation was easier but no funds were obtainable below 12 per cent.

Further sensational break in foreign exchange markets, which has been the bane of the exchequer in house of commons said would refuse to revert to policy of artificially supporting the dollar.

Reported arrangements have been made with the submarine boat company to acquire Newark ship building yards from U. S. Shipping Board.

LARSEN SAFE

Said to Have Left the Owed at Duluth.

(Canadian Press Wire.)—Creston, Nov. 18.—A rescue tug, driven to shelter at Grand Marais, on the south shore of Lake Superior, yesterday, after finding wreckage near the lake, has been missing since the steamer John Owen, missing and probably lost with her crew of 22 in a gale on Lake Superior last Saturday, was unable to get to Carlton Harbor as soon as the weather moderates in a last and almost vain hope that some members of the crew may have reached the shore.

John T. Kelly, ship manager for the owners, said this morning that the crew was a mixture of Americans and Canadian members of the crew may have reached the shore.

The Duluth shipping office of the Lake Carriers Association to-day notified the Cleveland owners of the Owen that three members of the crew were missing and were not members of the crew may have reached the shore.
